Effingham Commoners' Day

Sunday 30th September 2018 12.00 to 16.00

There are many commons around the country today, but Effingham Common is particularly special: it is one of the few where Commoners' rights still exist. This September there will be a chance to witness the exercise of the Commoners' rights at 2.00pm, and find out about the history and ecology of the Common.
